

About A.N.I.C.E.

A.N.I.C.E, steps out... her House-door and pulls her record case with a pleasantly sounding rumble through the club scene of Berlin. While others butcher away with analogue and digital ingredients, she soulfully fillets her melodies and prepares a 10-course music meal of which you can never have enough. And when everything's spinning away she pauses and collects all those who are speechless with amazement. Her song "Wait for me" is the official wake-up call for all the dreamers and dally fairies. However, this lifeblood is not only dripping out of the speakers but is also pampering the viewers on Tape TV as DIY Video.

And while her radio show Pana.Roma.Sounds is still played in a continuous loop, she founded the label "Casual Lab" to work with people who create what she loves ... HOUSE!
